PRESIDENT'S REPORT

To the Trustees of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art:

Your President submits the Thirty-eighth Annual Report covering the year ending May 31, 1914:

THE MUSEUM

The Director of the Museum in his fourteenth Annual Report (appended hereto) refers most encouragingly to the work of the Museum, not the least encouraging feature of which is that students from all sections are being attracted by the exhibits and by the facilities afforded for prosecuting their studies in Art and Textiles. This feature is of great importance for we may be quite sure of the Museum's value when the trend of artistic thought centers about the problems which are elucidated by exhibits, historically and scientifically arranged.

The collection has been enriched by many gifts and acquisitions, the sum total of which suffices to insure us with the belief that the human interests enlisted with us may be counted upon for future enlargement and healthy growth.

THE SCHOOLS

These have been maintained with more than usual success. All departments have made marked advancement, and the numbers engaged therein largely exceed any of previous years. The real test of progress is always reflected in the Annual Exhibition made at the close of the school year.

The exhibit now presented will bear the most careful scrutiny in either the Art or Textile Departments. The first named shows some marked additions to the scope of its work, among which we find our first comparatively large exhibit of Jewelry and Silverware, many examples of which are shown. Among them a solid silver Chalice set with jewels in most appropriate manner, and surrounded by the proper decorative detail which give a charming effect. There are many examples of less costly results, but all of them are a guarantee that this innovation will become a standard part of our work.

The work in Illustration and Interior Decoration is of more than usual interest. It may not be known that all graduates in the first named, are required, before graduation, to show their efficiency by having their work accepted by the publishers of magazines, this insures their practical efficiency before they leave the school. The advancement made in Interior Decoration during the year is very noticeable. The entire Art School work cannot be too highly considered as it reflects the proficiency of the instructors in an unusual degree.

The Textile exhibit shows the careful training in force. All the exhibits are notable; each must be judged from the standpoint of its destiny and fitness. With this in view, Cotton, Woolen and even Jute become equal problems, and these various problems are most satisfactorily treated as shown by most interesting examples.

Nothing adds more value to textiles than beauty of color and design, the first a product of the Chemical Department apprises us of the strength of the instruction given and the skill acquired. Through this foundation work must be seen the quality of the completed fabric. We surely have cause to congratulate ourselves on the outcome.

The high class of exhibits shown in the Silk Department and along with them notable ones of woolens and worsteds, also of rugs and carpets, call for especial mention, these show unmistakably the value of our educational work and are well worthy careful examination.

The increasing importance of this school to the manufacturing community at large is unmistakable and daily problems are presented and confidences exchanged with a freedom warranted only by long and careful acquaintance of manufacturers with our work and with the consciousness that fair and reasonable attention is given to all these problems as they arise.

FINANCIAL

The financial condition of our institution has not materially improved over that of previous years.

The statement of operations as submitted by the Bureau of Municipal Research follows. Without the analysis therein given the Report shows:

| Administration Expenses | $ 9,216 17 |
|--|--------------|
| Art School | 23,760 84 |
| Textile School | 31,364 09 |
| Maintenance School Building | 11.812 96 |
| Advertising, Insurance and Interest on Mortgage | 26,931 23 |
| Museum Expenses | |
| Less Amount paid by Fairmount Park Com 16,645 79 | |
| | 7,572 22 |
| Interest, Mortgage Broad & Allegheny Ave | 8,395 00 |
| | $119,052 51 |
| Total Income | 105,151 37 |
| Deficiency | $ 13,901 14 |

The total improvement over preceding year amounts to $2577.67.

It is gratifying to feel that we have the support of the State of Pennsylvania and the City of Philadelphia in such large measure; yet it would immeasurably increase our influence upon the industries of both State and City could we have still larger coöperation from both; not only to wipe out the annual deficiency, but to enable the School to make further development of its Art and Industrial fields.

The Associate Committee of Women have contributed most generously to the school work, the details of which will be shown in their report.

During the year the Insurance Committee effected a most valuable saving in the Insurance.

New surveys and ratings of the property were made and the classification changed materially. The incidental saving amounting to $3000 in five (5) years, or the life of the Policy.

It is gratifying to note that Miss Elizabeth Swift Shippen's will, now probated, includes this Institution among its residuary legatees. This bequest, which was announced recently, promises to be the most generous we have ever received and it is gratifying to note that our work impressed Miss Shippen with its worthiness to be supported so liberally.

We are profoundly grateful for this remembrance and for the encouragement it will give others to follow in Miss Shippen's footsteps.

Respectfully submitted,

Theodore C. Search,

President.

PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM, MEMORIAL HALL FAIRMOUNT PARK, PHILADELPHIA

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR

In presenting this, my fourteenth annual report, as Director of the Museum, I beg to call attention to the practical completion of the relabeling of the exhibits and their systematic classification, many of the collections now being the most representative of their kind in this country. It is most gratifying to know that some of the departments are now generally recognized as being the most comprehensive in scope and are attracting students from all sections. This is particularly true of the collections illustrating the history and development of the industrial arts of America from the earliest times to the present day.

During the past year the Arundel Society's reproductions of old masters, which formerly occupied the entire wall space of the long corridor at the north side of the building, have been remounted and installed in swinging frames on stands in the Rotunda. The artists have been arranged alphabetically, so that in this compact and accessible form any visitor may find with facility the works of any painter in which he may be particularly interested.

A room near the northeast corner of the building is now being prepared for an exhibition of old American furniture as a memorial to the late Miss Anna P. Stevenson by her sister, Mrs. Frederick Thurston Mason.

In many other lines of activity the Museum force has been diligent, particularly in the constant improvement of installation, which it is hoped will be apparent to the occasional as well as the frequent visitor.

ATTENDANCE

The number of persons visiting the Museum during the calendar year of 1913 was 326,152. For the school year ending May 31, 1914, the attendance was 337,913, an increase of 18,124 over that of the previous twelve months. On Sunday, April 12, 1914, 10,100 people passed through the gates, and on several other Sundays the number of visitors ranged from 7200 to 8500. This large attendance shows the steadily increasing popularity of the Museum among the masses. The registration by months was as follows:

| June, | 191337.030 | December, | 191313,912 |
|------------|-------------|-----------|------------|
| July, | 191336,257 | January, | 191417,004 |

COÖPERATION WITH OTHER MUSEUMS

It has long been a problem with the Museum management what disposition to make of the accumulated duplicate art objects which have taxed the crowded storage rooms of the building. This problem has been partially solved by the Museum Committee in trying the experiment of lending to other less favored or new museums. Thus far three recently established museums in different sections of the country have been furnished with interesting exhibits from retired material, which in each instance has been suitably installed for the pleasure and instruction of the people in their respective communities. By placing these collections on loan, they can be recalled whenever, for any reason, it shall be deemed advisable. In the meantime this material is being properly cared for by its present appreciative guardians.

The Pennsylvania Museum is a Sustaining Member of the American Association of Museums and a Chapter of the American Federation of Arts. The annual meetings of both organizations were held in Chicago during the week of May 17-24, and the Museum was represented by its Director.

MEMBERSHIP

By an amendment to the By-Laws a new class of membership has been established, to be known as "Fellowship Members in Perpetuity," who shall give $1000 at one time. The class of Patron Members, contributing $5000, has been changed to "Patron Members in Perpetuity." During the year twenty-eight new Annual Members have been elected, which number just about covers the decrease caused by resignation and death.

SPECIAL MUSEUM FUNDS

Contributions to the special fund for the purchase of art objects were received during the year as follows:

| Samuel P. Avery | $25 | Mrs. Byron P. Moulton | 10 |
|---------------------------|------|-----------------------------|-------|
| August Bein | 50 | Charles Norris | 100 |
| Miss Harriet Blanchard | 200 | Mrs. Evan Randolph | 30 |
| Mrs. Joseph H. Brazier | 5 | Miss Elizabeth C. Roberts . | 200 |
| Percy H. Clark | 50 | Miss Frances A. Roberts | 20 |
| Mrs. George M. Conarroe . | 10 | Miss Fanny Rosengarten | 20 |
| Miss Kate S. Gillespie | 10 | Jospeh G. Rosengarten | 10 |
| Mrs. John Harrison | 50 | Mrs James D. Winsor | 5 |
| Miss Fannie S. Magee | 100 | | |
| | | | $895 |

An entertainment was given at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel on December 4, 1913, under the auspices of the Associate Committee of Women for the benefit of the Institution. The Museum has received from the proceeds of this entertainment, through the courtesy of the Associate Committee, the sum of $1000 for the purchase of furniture.

ACCESSIONS

The number of objects secured by the Museum through purchase and gift was 472. These include a bequest of a collection of pottery, porcelain and bric-a-brac by the late Harry J. Abbott, and of a large bronze clock of the period of Louis XVI, bequeathed by the late Miss Anna P. Stevenson. The number of objects deposited on loan was 764.

Among the more important acquisitions are a collection of peasant's knives, forks and spoons from the Austrian Tyrol; Japanese antiquities presented by Mayor and Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg, including a remarkable collection of gold and silver coins, dating from the twelfth century to the middle of the nineteenth; painted furniture from the Austrian Tyrol, given by Mrs. James Mifflin; a wardrobe and commode with painted and lacquered decoration, of the eighteenth century, the gift of Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, and a Gothic prie-dieu of the sixteenth century, presented by Mrs. John Harrison.

Among the loans placed on exhibition may be particularly mentioned the collection of Chinese porcelains, jades and enamels of the K'ang-hsi, Yung-cheng and Ch'ien-lung reigns, owned by Mrs. Edward G. Low, of Brookline, Mass.; the noted collection of Delft ware formed by the late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell; the collection of pottery and porcelain belonging to Mr. Alexander Scott, which was formed in England many years ago by his father, with the aid and advice of the late Sir Wollaston Franks of the British Museum, England's most eminent art expert; and a unique collection of millefiore glass paperweights and other objects of the middle of the nineteenth century, gathered together by the Director of the Museum for the purpose of illustrating the revival of an early Roman art.

SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART BROAD AND PINE STREETS

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL

Presented at the Close of the Thirty-seventh School Year, June 8, 1914

REGISTRATION

The registration for the year is 1271, of which number 788 are men and 483 are women; 30 States and 5 foreign countries are represented, but 82 per cent. of the enrollment is from Pennsylvania. This enrollment is larger by 181 than that for the preceding year and 103 more than that for 1911, which was the largest hitherto recorded in the history of the school.

GRADUATING CLASS

The Graduating Class numbers 56 as compared with 49 last year, which number was considerably larger than that of any preceding year.

A subject of sincere congratulation is furnished by the fact that the distinct advances in the requirements for graduation which have been made in recent years—the course in the Art School now requiring four years instead of three, and the standards in all departments being appreciably raised, as an inspection of the exhibited results conclusively shows—have resulted not in any lessening of the number of those completing the courses, but in a constant gain, the number of students to receive the diploma this year being nearly four times as large as that which graduated a decade ago.

BUILDING

Several improvements of considerable importance have been made in the school building and some of the most pressing needs to which attention was called in my last report have been supplied, much of the work having been done under the immediate supervision, and at the expense of the Associate Committee of Women, to which the institution has owed so much in the way of support and development ever since it was organized thirtyone years ago. The room over the main office, which was formerly of little use, has been converted into an admirable studio for the use of the advanced class in Interior Decoration, by the building of a large skylight. The locker situation has been much relieved by the installation of 100 new steel lockers of improved construction in the large Lunch Room in the basement, and the sanitary accommodations, especially in the wing occupied by the Art School, materially increased, an improvement which involved the re-building of two of the old toilet rooms and the construction of a new stairway on the third floor at the Fifteenth Street end of the building.

EQUIPMENT

In addition to the accessions and renewals which are as a matter of course to be noted more or less constantly in the collection of casts, models and machinery, the kiln has been practically rebuilt in a way that has appreciably increased its efficiency, and the facilities of the class in metal work considerably enlarged.

In the Textile School several valuable additions have been made to the equipment as gifts from the manufacturers and many others of equal or even greater value might have been received could room for their proper installation have been provided.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS

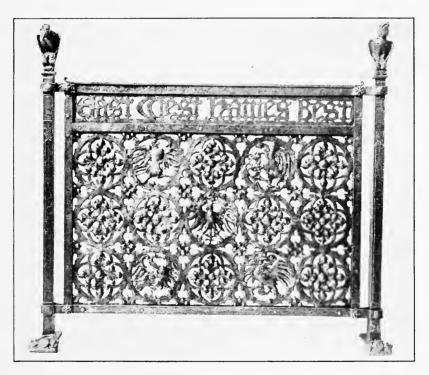

That a cordial spirit of devotion to the ideals which the school represents, and of eagerness to coöperate in everything that tends to promote its interests, animates the student body to an extent that is extremely gratifying, is apparent to all who are at all familiar with the atmosphere that pervades the school. The two clubs, one of girls and one of boys, which have rooms in the school building, coöperate cordially in welcoming newcomers and in promoting social intercourse among the members of all the classes, and the Alumni Associations of the Art and Textile Departments render continuous, and with constantly increasing effectiveness, invaluable service in perpetuating its memories and extending its influence.

The Art School Alumni continues on an ever-increasing scale the work of the business bureau and of circulating exhibitions which have been referred to in former reports, while the Textile Alumni have been very active in preserving and promoting the school spirit among graduates and supplementing its teaching by lessons drawn from their experience in actual business. A New England branch of the Textile School Alumni has recently been formed with headquarters at Providence, Rhode Island.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

The Commencement Exercises were held in Horticultural Hall of the evening of Thursday, June 4th, and were followed by the usual private view of the exhibition of students' work at the school building. The Commencement address was delivered by Edward James Cattell, Esq., Statistician of the City of Philadelphia, his subject being "The Wedding of Art and Industry, the Foundation of Pennsylvania's Greatness."

A list of the diplomas, prizes and certificates awarded, as well as a list of additions to the library and of donations and benefactions to the school, together with a classified account of the registration, is appended.

| Pamphlets | 39 | 39 | |
| | | | 185 |

At the close of the School year collections of prints, etc., and periodicals on file are classed as unbound volumes. The total number of titles in the Library May 30, 1914, is 13,512, divided as follows:

| Bound Volumes | 2,584 |
|-----------------------|--------|
| Unbound Volumes | 1,041 |
| Photographs or Prints | |
| Pamphlets | 2,314 |
| - | 13,512 |

The attendance for eight months was 7973. In addition to this there were 1212 loans of prints, plates and photographs for classroom purposes. At a very low estimate each one was used by an average of four students. This gives a conservative total of 12,821 calls for Library service during the school year.

To the Executive Committee Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art, Broad and Pine Streets, Philadelphia:

GENTLEMEN:

We have audited the books and accounts of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1914, and found same correct.

In making the audit every assistance was rendered by Mr. Allan, and we are pleased to report that all his supporting data were found to be in good shape.

Respectfully submitted,

BUREAU OF MUNICIPAL RESEARCH,

(Signed) F. P. GRUENBERG,

Chief of Staff.

REPORT OF THE ASSOCIATE COMMITTEE OF WOMEN

The Associate Committee of Women has followed the work of the Museum and School during the current year and the report of each committee shows higher standard attained than last year. Through the agency of the Scholarship Committee Students Loan Fund, the Students League House and the Building Committee we have helped in the school work with more than usual enthusiasm.

Another successful entertainment was given, entitled "A Night at Versailles," from which $4102.71 was realized: $1000 of this went to the Museum, $500 to the League House, and the balance spent in improvements to the school.

Three joint meetings of the entire Women's Committee and the Board of Trustees have been held on the last Thursdays of October, January and April.

An Executive Committee, composed of President, two Vice-Presidents, Secretary, Treasurer and two members of the Committee, was formed to pass upon all matters that required special attention between the regular meetings.

The Board of Trustees has graciously extended to our Committee the right to elect three of our members in addition to our President, who shall represent the A. C. W. on the Board of Trustees.

In December, with deepest regret and full appreciation of her long and devoted service to this institution, we were compelled to accept the resignation of our President, Mrs. John Harrison. Mrs. Thomas Roberts consented to serve as President for the balance of the year. In May Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg was elected President, Miss Nina Lea First Vice-President, Mrs. C. Leland Harrison Second Vice-President, while Mrs. Shillard Smith became Secretary on the resignation of Miss Margaretta Hinchman after a few months' valued service.

Again we are called upon to record the death of a valued member whose interest and liberality to the school has covered a period of nineteen years. Miss Anna Blanchard was elected to membership in 1884 and was at the time of her death an honorary member. Her loss will be greatly felt.

Respectfully submitted,

Georgine N. Wetherill Smith,
Secretary
